

COUPLE CHARGED WITH POISONING YOUTH AGED 18

Newark, New Jersey, Pair
Held Without Bail for Examination

STATE ALLEGES CRIME

Expect to Exhume Bodies
Of Parents of Husband
For Probe

Newark, N. J., May 14.—While Mrs. John Creighton and her husband were held without bail today, charged with poisoning of Charles Raymond Avery, the woman's eighteen-year-old brother, prosecutor John O. Bigelow expected to obtain permission to exhume the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Creighton, parents of John Creighton.

Young Avery, it is alleged, died April 20 after a ten-day illness marked by recurrent nausea and the state contends his death was due to arsenic poisoning.

The elder Creighton died in December, 1920, and his wife in September of the following year. Bigelow said he wanted to learn if the cause of the aged couple's death were properly diagnosed.

Mrs. Creighton is the beneficiary in a $1,000 life insurance policy which Bigelow says she was instrumental in obtaining.

Creighton and his wife pleaded not guilty to the charge and were held for trial June 18.

Avery's death was ascribed to heart disease but anonymous letters to the prosecutor suggested another cause of death.

Pathological examination of his vital organs showed traces of arsenic poisoning, Bigelow said.

LEGION REALIZES $135.66 IN DRIVE FOR GRAVES FUND

A total of $135.66 will be Xenia's subscription to the Graves Endowment Fund, backed by the American Legion to provide for annual decoration of the graves of American soldiers overseas on each succeeding Memorial Day.

This amount had been reported Monday as a result of the campaign conducted here last week by Joseph P. Foody Post, American Legion, and which ended with a sale of poppies on the streets Saturday. The National organization is hoping to raise $100,000 by May 30, to provide for perpetual care and decoration of the more than 30,000 American graves overseas.

Boxes placed in banks and business houses all last week by the committee, composed of Deputy Clerk of Courts Earl Short, Ohmer Tate and Earle Spahr, yielded only $7.83, but the poppy sale conducted Saturday proved more remunerative. The sale amounted to $87.80, half of which represents the Legion Auxiliary's donation to the fund and the other half will represent the Legion's share.

Part of the poppies were made by Auxiliary members and they were sold by members of the Auxiliary and by Girl Scouts in the afternoon and by members of the Legion Saturday evening. The balance of the fund was received from the collections in churches. A special collection for the fund taken at the Second United Presbyterian Church Sunday yielded $30 which was turned over to the committee. A collection last week at the Union Services of Trinity M. E. Reformed and Presbyterian Churches resulted in $10.03 being subscribed to the fund.

Springfield, O., May 14.—Mrs. Mary King Penfield, wife of Augustus H. Penfield, defaulting cashier of the Springfield National bank, filed suit for divorce, also asking restoration to her maiden name of Mary King Gotwald. The petition is one of the shortest ever filed in court here.

WILL PROPOSE RESERVATIONS TO COURT PLAN

Opponents of Harding's
Program Are Perfect-
ing Plans

Washington, May 14.—Plans of the opponents in the senate to the administration's proposal for American membership in the league of nations court have begun to take definite shape.

It is understood that five or six reservations will be proposed. Some of them have been agreed upon in outline already. These will be in addition to the four reservations suggested by Secretary of State Hughes in his letter accompanying the president's communication to the senate.

Probably the principal one of the opponents' reservations will be designed by Senator Lodge, chairman of the foreign relations committee and majority floor leader, to sever entirely the connection of the court with the league and provide for future selection of judges of the court by the powers participating in the court independently of the league.

Next in importance will be reservation to eliminate the six to one voting advantage Great Britain has over the United States in the election of judges by the league, to be proposed by Senator Johnson.

It is also to be declared that the United States, if it becomes a member of the court while it still is a part of the league, shall not be bound in any way to support or enforce any action taken by the league based on an opinion rendered by the court in its capacity as legal adviser to the league.

The Lodge reservation was foreshadowed in the Massachusetts senator's recent letter to Governor Hyde of Missouri. Lodge made it plain to his friends in the senate, following the writing of the letter to Governor Hyde that he was working on a reservation that would carry out his suggestion to absolutely cut away the court from the league. He does not share Secretary Hughes' view that it would be impracticable for the participating nations to elect the judges other than through the council and assembly of the league.

Attempting to fight the bees, she lost control of the machine, a Ford touring car, which went over an embankment.

Mrs. Kendig was removed to the Miami Valley Hospital where it was found that her arm was fractured. Her daughter was bruised. The car was damaged, and towed into Dayton.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS TESTIFY

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGES ASKED AGAINST YOUTHS

Northwestern University
Students May Be Indicted
By Grand Jury

SENSATION SPRUNG

Star Athlete Gives His Vision of Having Episode
At Evanston.

Chicago, May 14.—Indictments charging manslaughter against the Northwestern University students, who figured in the automobile crash in which Louis Aubere, 17, was killed, during a clash rush the night of April 17, will be under indictment in connection with the alleged plot.

Roscoe C. Fitch, an occupant of one of the cars in the collision was to appear before the grand jury today. Fitch is the youth who is said to have informed authorities he "knew all about Mount's death" and then suddenly repudiated his alleged confession.

Fitch was a roomer at the home of Leighton Mount, whose skeleton was found in a cairn beneath a lake pier, recently. Mount disappeared shortly after freshmen and sophomores had engaged in a class rush in September, 1921.

Fitch has declared Aubere met death in a "deliberate accident," and Crowe declared he would question the youth further regarding the tragedy. Authorities intimated they were positive the youth also knows more about the Mount tragedy than he has divulged and they will grill him further along these lines, they stated.

Audrey Louquist Scott, daughter of Axel Louquist, who eloped with Fred Scott, nephew of President Walter Hill Scott, of Northwestern University, will tell her story in the state's attorney's office today. Her testimony it was said, would relate to alleged threats made by young Scott "that she and her father had better keep their mouths shut about the Mount case."

Miss Phyllis Trojan, a popular coed at Northwestern, and friend of Arthur Perding, one of the students hanged in September 1921, is also to be questioned today.

Sensational testimony was given today by James Paterson, star athlete of Northwestern University who, according to Assistant State Attorney Wharton, testified had sponsored the "hush up" campaign at Evanston.

"I wanted to do all I could do to protect the university," Paterson is said to have declared.

"I went to the pier and I must admit that what I found made it look bad for the university," Paterson is said to have testified. "Then I went to see Attorney Merrick, counsel for the trustees and called upon Judge Harry Olson who is one of the trustees. I urged them that everything be done to save Northwestern from unpleasant notoriety," Paterson said, according to the assistant state's attorney.

"I suggested that Northwestern had enough money, legal talent and medical experts to present the case way we wanted it presented. Mr. Merrick and Judge Olson agreed that I should do what I could to bring the student body into a frame of mind, where they would accept the suicide theory. I felt that Northwestern was my school and that I should support it. I didn't have any idea of obstructing investigation," Paterson testified, according to Wharton.

Louis Henke, editor of the student daily at Northwestern was equally as frank.

Henke admitted he had written the anonymous letter to State's Attorney Crowe, advising a search of the Western Union's records for a telegram reported to have been sent by Mount to his mother last fall from Obregon.

ATTEND CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR RALLY

Delegations from over the county attended the regular Miami Quarterly Meeting and Christian Endeavor Rally, at the Friends Church, this city Sunday. Large groups from Spring Valley, New Burlington and Xenia, attended the meeting.

The address of the afternoon was given by the Rev. E. Havard Brown, pastor of the Eight Street Friends Church, Richmond, Indiana, on the subject, "The Investment of a Life."

A pleasing and amusing part of the program was the "stunt" contest held by the different societies, the banner was awarded to the Xenia Christian Endeavor Society, by the chairman of the judges. The Rev. Charles O. Whitley, of Oskoshosa, Iowa, superintendent of the Iowa Yearly Meeting, made a clever speech of presentation. The Rev. E. Havard Brown, was in charge of the evening services. The Rev. Mr. Brown spoke on "Unknown Heroes." Large congregations attended the services.

To Name Young Woman As Writer of "Letters"

Girl Will Be Accused by George Maxwell, Composer,
Who Is Under Indictment In Connection With Alleged Plot.

New York, May 14.—A young woman will be named as the author of the "poison pen" letters which have poured through the mails to besmirch the character of scores of well-to-do and socially prominent.

The girl will be formally accused by George Maxwell, composer and music publisher, his friends asserted today. Maxwell is under indictment in connection with the alleged plot.

Maxwell, who is in London will sail for the United States next Wednesday, his friends said. They said he has long suspected a certain young woman and that he will reveal her identity on his return to New York.

The composer's friends are rallying to his support.

The Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers is planning a meeting for tomorrow and it is expected they will give him a vote of confidence.

New York, May 14.—Society women hitherto unmentioned in the poison pen plot will be called to testify before the grand jury.

This became known when it was learned the April grand jury will be reconvened to further investigate the salacious letters that have broken up nine homes, caused one suicide and sent several persons to the insane asylum.

It has been concluded that the poison penman had reached out dexterously to besmirch the characters of scores of the well-to-do and socially prominent. His field was as broad as the nation's social register, it is said, and the shafts of his attack were barbed with cruel innuendo and bitter truth hastily hidden from sight by the victims.

Investigations of the calumny was started when Allan J. Ryan, financier, revealed that he had received some of the letters mentioning his wife. It has resulted so far in the indictment of George Maxwell, prominent in the music and social world.

District Attorney Nathan is searching the mass of letters for witnesses who may enlighten the investigators. As the search continues into the depths of what seems to be the most comprehensive plot of this kind in the annals of New York's society, it was intimated there may be additional indictments, possibly revealing an organized band engaged in a campaign of social ruin.

STRIKE IN BELGIUM REACHES SERIOUS STAGE ON MONDAY

State Employees Refuse to Work—Food Supplies
Running Short

Brussels, May 14.—The strike of Belgian state employees reached serious proportions today. Work in the larger cities is at a standstill. Food supplies are running short and impeded transportation hinders movement of fresh supplies.

The government called to the colors all public service workers, putting a military status upon them. A proclamation was issued warning that strikers who failed to heed the call would face court martial.

It is generally believed that the strike was organized by socialists for political purposes.

MOTORCYCLE COP MEETS DEATH IN CAUSING ARREST

Machine Upset, Policeman
Is Struck By Another
Car On Pike

Cincinnati, O., May 14.—As he was about to arrest a speeder, on the Madison pike, south of Covington, Ky., Motorcycle Policeman David Rogers, of Covington, was killed last night. His machine was upset by a sudden jerk on the part of the speeding car and almost as soon as he fell to the road his skull was crushed by another automobile.

Rogers was drawing alongside the fugitive car when the driver threw it for an instant out of the straight line, the movement being just enough to bump the motorcycle sideways. This threw the motorcycle, Rogers being tossed five feet into the air.

As he landed he was struck by a motor car driven by Emmett Hogan, 23 West 36th street, Covington, approaching from the opposite direction.

Rogers, a motorcycle messenger in the world war, was known as an expert in handling the machines. His widow and two children survive.

CHINA BANDITS AGREE TO FREE ALL CAPTIVES

Settlement With Brigands
Reached—Troops to be Withdrawn

NO CONFIRMATION

State Department Not Informed of Release Of Americans

Shanghai, May 14.—Release of the prisoners held by Chinese bandits in the Shantung hills is expected at once as the result of an agreement reached with the brigands by representatives of the Peking government, said a despatch from Lincheng today.

The Peking government agreed to withdraw the troops and to enroll the bandits in the national army. The bandit leaders said they were satisfied but wished to see the agreement signed before the captives were liberated. There are still two women captives among the prisoners, one of them being the wife of Manuel Veree, a wealthy resident of Guadalajara.

Japanese brand the international attitude toward the bandit situation as "reactionary."

There is a persistent rumor here that Japanese were really responsible for the raid, although there were no Japanese on the train. Chinese officials say that the Japanese governor-general of Saghallen was to have traveled on the raided train but cancelled his ticket upon receiving warning.

Washington, May 14.—The state department today was without confirmation of reports of the release of any of the Americans or other foreign prisoners held by Chinese bandits near Lincheng.

Consular agents of the powers are negotiating with the Chinese officials in Shantung to effect the liberation of the captives, but none of the despatches received by the department indicate that the bandits have given up their prisoners.

CLUE FOLLOWED IN SEARCH FOR ALLEGED OFFICER'S KIDNAPER

Cleveland Policeman Is Believed Murdered After Clothes Found

Cleveland, O., May 14.—The body of Patrolman Dennis Griffin, for whom a constant search has been kept up since Friday, was found this afternoon in a shallow grave about three miles from Chagrin Falls. The grave was not far from the spot where charred portions of the dead policeman's uniform were found yesterday.

Cleveland, May 14.—Police today were questioning a man who says that he drove John L. Whitfield, alleged kidnaper of Patrolman Dennis Griffin, to an interurban station Friday afternoon. The witness told police that at the time, Whitfield was accompanied by a woman companion and that while the officer for the man last seen with officer now believed murdered, was at his height, with every officer on the alert, the suspect slipped through the cordon, boarded an interurban car and left town.

Acting on the information furnished the search will be concentrated all along the route supposed to have been taken.

In the meantime, the last lingering hope that Griffin might still be alive had been abandoned with the finding and positive identification of charred clothing and equipment of the missing patrolman yesterday afternoon. Some boys found the burned articles on a lonely road near Gauga Lake.

DISAPPROVE OHIO ROAD CONTRACT

Columbus, May 14.—Award of a contract to Lewis & Copeland of Lima for construction of 8.5 miles of the Bellefontaine-Marysville road in Logan county failed to receive the approval of State Director of Finance Baker. The contract called for reinforced concrete and involved a cost of $271,454. It was awarded by Highway Director Herriek March 13, but has been held up by the governor pending the outcome of an investigation by Paul Murray, New Philadelphia, and Director Baker. The latter said he refused to approve the contract on the ground that it calls for a new road through a territory in which there are few residents.

MOTHER'S DAY IS OBSERVED SUNDAY IN LOCAL CHURCHES

The glory of Motherhood was praised in song and sermon in Xenia City Churches, Sunday, "Mother's Day." Local pastors took that occasion to pay tribute to mothers, and their influence in the world and events.

The Rev. G. A. Scott, pastor of the First M. E. Church, took for the subject of his sermon, "Why We Call Our Mother Blessed," calling her the "best gift that God gives."

"We take every opportunity to pay tribute to our mothers, and the esteem in which she is held is evidenced by the fact that the 63rd Congress set aside May 13, as 'Mother's Day,'" he said. "She has the spirit of courage and is able to face any situation. Her courage puts courage into the heart of childhood, and her spirit of self-reliance lends aid to every possibility. She is not only a guiding light to her own, but to everyone with whom she comes into contact. She is the teacher in the school of life."

"A mother is the greatest influence in the world," declared the Rev. E. W. Middleton, pastor of the First Reformed Church, in his sermon. "The history of great men has been written as a result of their mothers. The dynamic power of life is traceable to early teaching of religion in the hearts of men. The first four years of child life begins in the university of the Nursery."

"Mother's Day," was fittingly observed at the Friends Church, Mrs. H. H. Hawkins Sunday School Class composed of young men and young women, were in charge of the Sunday School program. The altar was decorated with spring flowers. A large assembly of the congregation attended the services. Recitations by Daniel Lewis and Myrtle Fawcett, a solo by Miss Leona Keller, featured the program. The church service following was in charge of the Rev. W. E. Jones, pastor of Sullivan Avenue Friends address on "Opportunity." At the Church, Columbus, who gave a stir-close of the service 14 members were received into the church. The Rev. and Mrs. Lewis Pim, former pastors of the church, were present at the services.

Clifford Kennard, a pupil of Daniel Reddon, of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, sang at Christ's Episcopal Church.

British Naval Officer Now Lord Glenconner

The Hon. Christopher Tennat, a British naval officer, has succeeded to his father's title and fortune as Lord Glenconner. He is one of the richest of the British peers, deriving a huge income from copper mines in Spain, steel works in Scotland and the largest chemical plant in England. The new Lord Glenconner, through his mother, is a great-grandson of Lord Edward Fitzgerald, one of the most remarkable figures in the Irish Nationalist movement at the close of the eighteenth century, and of Lady Edward Fitzgerald, the celebrated Pamela, said to have been the daughter of Mme. de Genlis and King Louis Philippe of France. Lord Glenconner is a nephew of Margot Asquith, his father being Mrs. Asquith's brother.

Lord Glenconner.

SUES TO REGAIN HIS BRIDE

Mrs. Clyde Lint.

Clyde Lint, of Chicago, has entered suit for $50,000 against his father-in-law, J. G. Trumbly, alleging alienation of the affections of his bride, who was Miss Elean-

JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA, MAKES MONEY BY OWNING A PUBLIC UTILITY.

Including Xenia's own experience, a number of years ago, public opinion has usually been against municipal ownership of public utilities, yet Xenia is trying it now in the ownership of our water works. Time will tell how this experiment will work out. In the mean time it will perhaps not do any harm to give the evidence that at least one city claims to have made money by such ownership. We take the following article from a late issue of the Jacksonville, Florida, Journal. It shows that the arguments are not all on one side in the matter. May our ownership of the water works prove like profitable. The Journal says:

Jacksonville's power plant is a monument to successfully operated municipal public utilities.

In addition to a present asset value of $2,750,000, the outcome of a $75,000 investment thirty years ago, the plant has poured $2,901,000 in net profits into the city treasury. The money has gone to reduce taxes.

More remarkable still is the fact that while the plant has been building up this enormous profit it has furnished Jacksonville power at a rate cheaper than that enjoyed by any other city in the United States.

These figures read like fiction, but they are facts. Opponents of municipal utilities cannot refute them. The records are open.

In some respects Jacksonville's municipal power plant is the eighth wonder of the world. It has been attracting national attention for a number of years and its condensed history of profits covering the thirty-year period since it was established is bound to create still greater interest.

All the gold mines are not in California. Jacksonville has one in the public utility.

THE PRESIDENT IS RIGHT.

President Harding is convinced that no man may stay long in the White House and remain a convinced "isolationist." He has turned to the Permanent Court for International Justice and fights for it in the fact of a very considerable amount of pressure upon him to desert it. He is equally convinced that the people of these United States are not such stiff-necked and shuddering "isolationists" that they are fearful of the World Court.

He is right. Politicians and vote-chasing witch-doctors may be afraid of it, but the people are not. He is a thousand times right when he tells the General Federation of Women's Clubs that in the matter of this Court the national heart, conscience and judgment are alike enlisted, and against these we need never fear that any opposition may prevail.

In this the President reads the signs of the times very clearly. The irreconcilables and bitter-enders are missing or misreading these signs.

The World Court question is in the way of becoming a moral issue, an issue of "heart, conscience and judgment." Its supporters are not concerned about partisanship.

The people of the churches of America are not afraid of this Court. They welcome it and demand that we enter.

PARIS DEMANDS THAT THE TURKS DROP THE CHESTER TREATY.

France will insist on cancellation of the Chester agreements as a preliminary to signature of any treaty with Turkey.

That statement was made by M. Lenail, chairman of the Near East Committee of the Chamber of Deputies. He said:

"It is impossible that we who fought against the Crescent during the war should admit that a nation which did not participate in the war against Turkey should harvest benefit and become pre-eminent in those regions. The Chester agreements damage our former interests, and we shall in no case accept them. Our claims were recognized before the war. They again were conceded to us by the Treaty of Sevres. Mustafa Kemal himself recognized our rights over that portion of Turkey now declared sold to the Chester syndicate.

"We as rightful owner will not accept a bargain made without our knowledge and against our will. There is no honesty among nations if we accept such a principle. Under such conditions no diplomatic agreements could be signed anywhere.

"Several reasons now influence Kemal. The first is his desire for better peace terms by menacing the Allies with the scarecrow of 'American competition' and 'American industrial imperialism.' The second is the need for ready cash. These Americans, without responsibility and with no official mandate, were able to promise anything, leaving the American Government quite free to reject the proposals and later avoid spending millions in the wasp's nest of Europe.

"We consider that America thus shows lack of scruples and international fairness. Why should America be pre-eminent in Turkey? We admit the claims of Britain for her brilliant part in the defeat of Turkey. But America did nothing on the Eastern front. And now by providing the Turks with financial promises they take advantage of their position with the Allies."

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Nearly all the strawberries are killed and many of the late ones injured as a result of the recent cold weather. Early cherries are killed, while some of the late sorts promise a light crop. A few seedling peaches are still holding the fort. Apples show no injury yet. The Inter-Urban Oratorical contest, comprising representatives from the High Schools of Xenia, London, Bellefontaine, Greenville and Troy takes place this evening at Urbana. Miss Della Downing will be the representative of the local High School and has prepared an oration on the subject "How Far the Candle Throws Its Little Beam."

There is no building boom on in Xenia but if you wish a job of carpentering you will be likely told "This is our busy day," and asked to wait. Taking the city over there is quite an amount of building being done.

Every day there are scores of our country friends inspecting their elegant new Court House. They are pleased with it and glad they voted for it.

If the hair is too oily it is not a bit of use to wash it every week or so. Too much oil shows a somewhat unhealthy condition of the scalp and should be cured by proper use of tonics and massage. Curiously enough, oily dandruff can only be cured by the liberal use of oil thoroughly rubbed into the scalp.

Meantime, while the woman is doing all these useful things to her scalp she wants her hair to look pretty and fluffy. As a weekly shampoo is harmful, she must use dry powder shampoos or the gasoline shampoo which

I will talk about later. Most of my readers know how to make the color shampoo powders for blonde and dark hair. The basis is powdered starch wheat, rice or potato starch if you wish, but ordinary corn starch such as is used for laundry purposes if you want to be economical. Personally I think the corn starch is just as good.

If your hair is dark the starch is melted in coffee as strong and black as you can make it. If it is for blonde hair, add the powder in strong tea. After the powder is thoroughly mixed and colored, let it settle, pour off the liquid and let dry. If it is on large platters, so only a thin coating of starch settles on each platter it will dry quickly and powder again without any trouble.

In any case put all the colored powder into a little cheesecloth bag and sift it into a jar. The bag can be pounded to get out all the lumps. This sounds like a great deal of work, but it is really quite simple and very easy. Scent it by adding a little perfumed sachet powder.

Dorothy P.—Massage crude oil into the scalp the night before the shampoo which will likely cure the dandruff condition. To remove this oil from the hair next day will require several latherings, but this may be done effectively and with only a mild soap such as castile or one in which there is tar if your hair is dark. Massage scalp every day in order to quicken the circulation. Disregard the fact of the old weak hairs dropping out. New hair will grow in thicker as the health of scalp improves.

Anxious and Brown Eyes.—The scars from pimples will bleach off gradually as you improve your own condition, such as taking care of your digestion and complexion. A small piece of charcoal used on the skin will remove the shine.

Here's a popular way to serve Kellogg's Bran—greatest health food!

Most every one who realizes how effective Kellogg's Bran is for the permanent relief of constipation has their own particular way of serving this wonderful cereal. Most families eat it as a cereal with milk or cream. Others sprinkle it on their favorite hot or cold cereal. Every one enjoys its nut-like flavor!

If you are cooking a hot cereal try this method:—Measure off two tablespoonfuls for each member of the family. Mix it with the cereal and cook as you always cook the cereal.

Kellogg's Bran is scientifically prepared and ready to eat, but its regulatory powers are in no way impaired if you cook it with other cereals.

Kellogg's Bran has won the friendly recommendation of physicians because it does give prompt and permanent relief from mild or chronic constipation and because it can be eaten without forming a habit. Again, Kellogg's Bran will free you from drastic, dangerous cathartics.

When constipation conditions exist in your system or when you are threatened, do not take half-way measures. Foods with a partial bran content cannot free you! What you must have is Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL BRAN! Go the limit; get relief!

Every member of your family will delight in eating Bran raisin bread, muffins, pancakes, macaroons, etc. Recipes on every package.

Start eating Bran to-day! Get well—keep well—keep disease out of your home! First-class hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers.

OUR SILENT GUEST

None of us can be happy totally alone. Unless we keep sharing, we wither just like the leaves and flowers deprived of moisture.

I am always entertaining a silent guest in my thoughts and my heart. Someone near and dear to me, perhaps, but who may be separated by miles or over years of time. Or perhaps some great mind that I shall never come in contact with, excepting through what it has written into some wonderful book.

Many times I have walked into the thick woods and there sat beside my silent friends, the flowers, an for hours we have talked a common language. Because I, being the inheritor of a love of beauty and the flowers being beauty in themselves, we needed no introductions—we were friends right off, and each delicately colored visitor became my silent guest.

We really never need be lonely—if we call in our silent guests!

The other evening, as I sat alone in my library, a deep sense of loneliness came over me. I wanted to talk with someone who might understand my mood at that time. But the night without was very still and it was late.

I walked over to this bookcase and then to that, I re-read a handful of treasured letters. I drank in the beauty from several pictures. Even my favorite little bronze seemed to smile its warmth to me—but still that particular mood remained hungry. Then I took the big chair in front of my typewriter and reached for my beloved little volume of R. L. S. Then the orchestra in Heaven played softly—and for hours my silent guest and I loved life anew together in that quiet room.

You may be a silent guest right now—far, far away!

Is it not, then, very important to keep this house of ours in beautiful order—clean and ready for whosoever may call?

Driven member of clutch weighs less than 3 1/2 lbs.

Why Jewett never "stalls," "jerks," nor clashes Gears

YOU can change gears in a Jewett as fast as you can move your hand—or as slowly as you please. No "clash" is heard—and you never "miss." You can even drop from "high" to "second" at 30 miles an hour. Let up the clutch pedal as fast as you can move your foot, and Jewett neither jerks nor kills its motor.

Such superb handling ease comes largely from the new Paige-type Jewett clutch. Its driven member weighs less than 3 1/2 pounds, one-third the usual weight. So it stops spinning instantly—adjusts itself to speed changes quickly—helps you change gears. And the six clutch springs instead of one, and twice the friction surface of the ordinary clutch, give the smooth, gradual engagement which prevents jerking or motor stalling. Please try Jewett's ease yourself.

Thanks to the enterprise of American dress manufacturers, a really truly French frock may be acquired by the slimmest purse. Twice, sometimes three or four times a year, the representatives of the large establishments in New York and Chicago travel to France and bring back the ideas which, when carried out at the exclusive houses, are beyond the purse of the average woman. Sometimes it is not even necessary to simplify a model to bring it within the range of popular prices. Note the model shown in the cut. When originally created it was made of azure blue ribbon, the edges tipped in silver. The cost, somewhere around $120. Now you may see this very design in your favorite specialty shop. Less expensive material, mass production and the very same idea, in blue, black or gray moire ribbon, may be had for about $59.50 or under, depending on the character of the shop and the quality of material and workmanship.

Your blood changes in the Spring. Why?

YOUR blood is thicker and more sluggish in Winter than in Summer—it has to be kept you warm. Then comes warmer days and lighter clothes. Your blood, still thick and heavy-laden, is slow to throw off its impurities. What happens? The impurities crowd out through the skin—bolls and pimples appear—you feel sluggish and tired! The remedy for this condition is S. S. S. It is the ideal blood purifier, because the medicinal properties are purely vegetable. It is a glorious fact that S. S. S. has given new, long-forgotten strength to older people and has made many old and young people look years younger. Blood is life—it's your foundation—make it rich—get blood strength—we all need it, especially rheumatism. S. S. S. will give you greater energy, strength and endurance.

Mr. Harry C. Bachman, 4736 Main Avenue, Norwood, Ohio, writes: "I had skin eruptions—pimples and blackheads. I took S. S. S. and was happily surprised at the results I got in less than three weeks' time."

A Real Money Maker

Assets and liabilities of the Printing Press Company organizing here will be as follows:

LIABILITIES

Ninety thousand dollars of preferred stock to be issued to the Des Moines stock holders. One hundred and fifteen thousand dollars in Common stock to Xenia stock holders.

ASSETS

$100,000 dollars in Money.

$15,000 in machinery turned over to us by the Des Moines Company, (this machinery was figured at fifty cents on the dollar.)

The Building of the Miami Cereal Co., was turned in for $15,000 in stock, but to this company it is worth $50,000 as it could not be duplicated for this amount.

The State of Iowa invoiced the patents of this machine in 1918 at $110,000, this invoice was made before many of the most valuable patents were taken out.

The drawings, patterns, tools, etc., no property of this company would cost thousands of dollars to duplicate.

We are to issue $100,000 worth of Common stock to E. E. Strawn besides, but this stock cannot be figured in the liabilities of this company at this time as it is to be placed in trust with the State of Ohio and cannot be released nor figured in the assets of this company until all other investors have received substantial dividends and have an absolute sure investment.

In looking over the assets and liabilities of this company you can see that under the worst conditions it would be nearly impossible for us to lose anything in this undertaking. On the other hand we have the following possibilities for making money. A press that will cost us approximately $2,400 to make can be sold for $11,000 plus a 10% royalty. The royalty should net us between $15 and $30 per day. TRY FIGURING THIS ON 100 PRESSES FOR ONE YEAR. Now the next important thing to consider is, will printers and publishers buy these presses under the above arrangements?

The best press on the market today costs from $4,500 to $22,000. The maximum production of this press is 3,500 per hour in not over two colors. The $22,000 size is the only size that will print two colors. Now put yourself in the printer's position. Would you be interested in a press that will print from one to six colors in one operation at a speed of 25,000 per hour, automatic feed and delivery? The first saving on this press is in buying paper. By being able to print from a roll you can buy paper ten per cent cheaper, in other words it cost the paper mill ten per cent to unroll paper and cut it in sheets for the present make of presses, so a printer will save enough on the difference in the price of paper, before the press is even considered, to pay the royalty. The increase of production is so great, profits so large that it leaves only one thing for a printer to do, and that is buy a press.

Think this over, investigate our statements. We invite your careful investigation. Come in our company and get in on one of the best propositions you have ever considered.

MACHINES COLLIDE SUNDAY NOON—BOTH CARS ARE DAMAGED

Mrs. J. W. Matthews, Cincinnati pike, suffered temporarily from shock and two machines were damaged as the result of an automobile accident at Third and Monroe streets Sunday noon, which the Nash roadster driven by D. L. Gregg, Union street, was struck by a Ford sedan driven by J. W. Matthews.

Mrs. Matthews received a slight injury to her arm and suffered from nervous shock from which she had fully recovered Monday. She was taken into a nearby residence and Dr. A. D. DeHaven called following the accident. Her husband also suffered from shock and their small son, Ralph, the only other occupant of the car received a slight injury to his head. Mr. and Mrs. Gregg, who occupied the other car, were unhurt.

The Matthews car was traveling south on Monroe street and the Gregg car was traveling east on Third street at the time of the collision. Matthews claims his vision of the Gregg car was obscured by a high board fence at the rear of the Kinney home and that he could not see the approaching machine until it was too late to avoid striking it. His machine struck the roadster broadside, mashing the fender and knocking the Gregg car into the curb, a rear wheel being smashed.

The radiator of the sedan was crushed, the radius rod damaged, one front wheel smashed, the glass in a door broken, and the top splintered.

LITTLE GIRL RUNS IN FRONT OF CAR— BADLY BRUISED

Little Glenna France Thoroman, five-year-old daughter of J. E. Thoroman, 131 Trumbull street, is suffering from severe bruises received when she was struck by an automobile driven by Allen Bone, New Burlington pike, on West Second street at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening.

The child was bruised about the head, her right leg was injured at the ankle and one arm hurt, but she escaped broken bones and there are no cuts. She is still confined to her bed and her injuries are being attended by Dr. C. G. McPherson.

The little girl makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leach, West Second street, since the recent death of her mother. Sunday evening her father called to take her a ride, and she ran from the house to meet him. At the curb she stopped while a machine passed and after it had gone ran into the street, directly in the path of the car driven by Bone.

Bone put on the brakes and skidded his car some distance in an effort to avoid striking the child, but one fender struck her shoulder, knocking her down. Thoroman told police the car was traveling at a high rate of speed and skidded 30 feet when the brakes were applied. Bone denies that he was traveling fast, and declares that he made every effort to avoid the accident, which would have been more serious if his machine had been moving rapidly.

NOTE DISAPPOINTS FRANCE.

Paris, May 14.—The British reply to the German reparations offer, which was rejected by France and Belgium, arriving here is assailed in high diplomatic quarters. It is complained that Lord Curzon's note is "distinct encouragement to Germany since it leaves the door open to negotiations without specifying that the passive resistance in the Ruhr must cease."

OFFERED DEPUTY MARSHALSHIP

Athens, O., May 14.—Hal W. Murphy, Republican of this city, has been tendered a post as deputy United States marshal, according to word received here. Murphy, once an Athens county deputy sheriff, has held several state and federal posts in the past.

Chicken au Gratin: (Last Sunday's menu called for Roast Chicken. I assume that the housekeeper still has a few chicken leftovers on hand for tomorrow night's dinner. If she has only a very small amount of the cold chicken she may mix it with a can of boned chicken in this recipe.) Dice cold cooked chicken finely, then weigh it. There should be one-half pound. Cook three tablespoons of rice in boiling, salted water till tender and drain. Butter a medium-sized baking dish and put a layer of chicken in the bottom. Spread over it a layer of the cooked rice; cover the rice sparingly with tomato catsup and season well with a little salt and pepper. Repeat these layers till the dish is full, having the final layer of bread crumbs and cheese. Brown in a hot oven and serve at once.

Baked Parsnips: Peel and wash six parsnips and cut them in half lengthwise. Now steam them for one hour in the top of your double boiler (adding only a very little water to them, and having the water in the bottom range boiling rapidly.) Remove lower range, put them in a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with salt and baking powder, pour over one-half cup of melted butter. Place the dish in a moderate oven to bake for 40 minutes, when they should be tender and brown. Serve very hot.

Strawberry Shortcake: (See a full article on this dessert which will be published on Wednesday, May 16.)

Venetian Eggs: (This is one of the most useful dishes I know of. It is nourishing, easily prepared and delicious.) Put three eggs into the top of your double boiler and beat well; add either one quart of canned tomatoes (both juice and solid parts) or the same quantity of stewed fresh tomatoes. Mix well, then season with one large onion finely minced, one tablespoon of salt, one tablespoon of sugar and a dash of pepper. Spoon of boiling water till thickened (the eggs thicken the mixture), then serve on toast.

XENIA OSTHEOPATH TO AID IN CLINIC

Dr. Carrie Hutchison, of this city, osteopath, with offices in Dayton, will be among the examining physicians to take part in the state osteopathic clinic to be held May 5, at Delaware Springs, sanitarium.

The clinic will be held for the benefit of children under the auspices of the Ohio Osteopath Women's association. Examinations for children ranging in age from six months to 12 years will be conducted.

Stuffed Peppers: Cut a slice from the stem-end of six large green peppers; remove seeds and partitions, and place these scooped-out pepper cups in boiling water for ten minutes (off the range), then drain well. Mix together four tablespoons of chopped cooked ham, four tablespoons of dry bread crumbs, one tablespoon of chopped parsley, one-half of a large onion finely minced, and one-half cup of tomatoes; season with one teaspoon of salt and a dash of pepper, and stuff the peppers with this mixture. Cover the opening with a slice of bacon, and bake in a pan for 50 minutes in a moderate oven.

Commencement exercises will be held at the same hall, Wednesday evening, May 16, at eight o'clock, central standard time. GIRL REVIVED WITH PULMOTOR.

Lorain, O., May 14.—Esther Newcome, 14, narrowly escaped asphyxiation at her home here. Her father battered down the door of a bedroom and found her unconscious on the floor. A pulmotor was used to revive the girl, who hovered between life and death for half an hour.

FARM BUILDINGS DESTROYED BY FIRE SUNDAY MORNING

A short circuit in the ignition system of an automobile, is believed to have started a fire which destroyed the hay barn, implement shed and garage on the Morton Grinnell farm, Grinnell road, near Yellow Springs early Sunday morning with a loss of between $1,500 and $2,000.

The fire was discovered about 6:30 o'clock in the garage, which is at one end of the barn but annexed to the large structure. From the source it is believed the conflagration started in the machine. The building was ablaze when discovered. The fire had gained such headway that the efforts of volunteer fire fighters recruited from neighbors, forming a bucket brigade, were only able to save structures in the neighborhood, which included the horse barn.

The Yellow Springs Fire Department attempted to respond to a call for help but owing to tire trouble on the road, never reached the scene of the fire. The combined structures composed a long frame building, all of which was consumed. Included in the destruction of the garage on one end were the Ford sedan in which the fire is thought to have started and a new buggy. There was no hay nor grain in the hay-barn and three head of cattle were taken from that part of the structure before the flames reached it. Several farm implements were destroyed in the implement annex on the other end of the barn, but the majority of the implements were in another building untouched by the flames. The horse barn, 14 feet away, was scorched by the heat.

The loss is partially covered by insurance.

A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

CHILD STEALING A CRIME

Chapter LXXXIV.

Dick looked almost frightened as did Ann. Perhaps he undersood even better than she how venomous Grace would be. They were undecided what to do next, which way to turn. Grace had the flivver and she had Jack. But where she had taken him they could not imagine.

"I believe she is just driving around keeping him with her just to scare you," Bessie said. "She'll turn up before dark."

But inaction was impossible to Ann, and she urged they continue to search instead of waiting as Bess proposed. But they met with little success, no trace of the flivver.

"You and Dick go home," Bess finally advised. "Drop in on me and keep the car. We have another. You may hear something, may need one."

There was nothing to do but take her advice. So Dick and Ann left Bess at home and quietly, but with fearful hearts, went back to their ranch. Dick maintaining silence, scarcely appearing to notice that Ann occasionally spoke to him. An knew from his expression that he was in agony, blaming himself; but she also knew he would not acknowledge it.

Nora had brought a semblance of neatness again to the rooms, but grumblingly. She hated and despised Grace Edmunds, to clean because of her was maddening; then too, her thoughts were all on Jackie, her "lamb."

Ann and Dick sat down to dinner. Nora had prepared, but neither could eat, neither could they talk. Too much lay between them. Some day it would have to be all thrashed out, cleared away if they were to be happy again, but just now Jack's absence overshadowed all else.

Ann had telephoned the doctor. He had seen nothing of them or of Hugh. He hadn't shown up at the ranch, where he was staying or there.

"He may be on their trail," the doctor encouraged.

"I can't go to bed! I can't!" Ann declared when Dick urged it. "Go to bed when my baby is in danger!"

"Grace won't harm Jack, Ann," Dick replied. "And he likes her so he will not be unhappy. She is trying to frighten us."

But Ann would not even undress, and all that long night she and Dick sat scarcely speaking, listening to every sound and starting up at the slightest noise. As soon as it was light Dick started off in Ne's car. Ann was induced to remain at home because of the chance Grace might bring Jack back there. She would not know Ann had returned, and might think she had frightened Dick sufficiently.

But the morning wore away and still no one came! Bessie telephoned, said Ned had started to visit the neighboring ranches in the hope she might have gone to one of them.

It was nearly noon when Hugh Norton drove up with Jack in the seat beside him, a flushed and angry Grace in the tonneau. Ann flew out to meet them, grasped Jack in her arms and with trembling lips questioned Hugh. "Wait until come back, Ann," he said. "I have to take my prisoner home first. Child stealing is a prison offense you know," he said gravely. Grace had not spoken, save as her baleful looks spoke of her hatred and anger at being captured.

Jack was unhurt and told in his baby way something of where they had been. A long ride, a funny house and sleeping with "Gace." They would have to await Hugh's return for the rest.

Before he came, Dick drove in. When he saw Jack same in Ann's arms he broke down. He told Ann he hadn't believed she meant what she said when she declared she wouldn't remain in the house with Grace, that he thought she was trying to make him small. He said Grace hadn't any sense, didn't know how to do anything but chatter and look pretty. But while he made no apology, Ann knew he was terribly sorry and ashamed of what he had done. Especially because of Bessie's insistence Grace should not remain in the house with him, and coming to stay.

"One would think I couldn't be trusted," he said. "I shouldn't have asked you to come back, Ann, if that had been true."

By and by Hugh came back. Dick knew he had found Jack, was anxious to know how and where. He seemed to have forgotten all his animosity against Hugh, and greeted him pleasantly—as he used to before his jealousy had been aroused.

"Tell us all about it, Hugh?" Ann asked.

"I followed them to San Bernardino. She had gone to a hotel, a small out of the way one. I threatened her, meant it too, told her I would have the head of the police there and could have had her locked up. Gad, she's got nerve. She declared she would keep Jack. That I didn't dare do anything. She was frightfully angry at you, Dick. Said you had insulted her, had compelled her to leave after virtually making her mistress of your house. I didn't understand it all, but I got Jack."

COUPLE CHARGED WITH POISONING YOUTH AGED 18

Newark, New Jersey, Pair
Held Without Bail for Examination

STATE ALLEGES CRIME

Expect to Exhume Bodies
Of Parents of Husband
For Probe

Newark, N. J., May 14.—While Mrs. John Creighton and her husband were held without bail today, charged with poisoning of Charles Raymond Avery, the woman's eighteen-year-old brother, Prosecutor John O. Bigelow expected to obtain permission to exhume the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Creighton, parents of John Creighton.

Young Avery, it is alleged, died April 20 after a ten-day illness marked by recurrent nausea and the state contends his death was due to arsenic poisoning.

The elder Creighton died in December, 1920, and his wife in September of the following year. Bigelow said he wanted to learn if the cause of the aged couple's death were properly diagnosed.

Mrs. Creighton is the beneficiary in a $1,000 life insurance policy which Bigelow says she was instrumental in obtaining.

Creighton and his wife pleaded not guilty to the charge and were held for trial June 18.

Avery's death was ascribed to heart disease but anonymous letters to the prosecutor suggested another cause of death.

Pathological examination of his vital organs showed traces of arsenic poisoning, Bigelow said.

LEGION REALIZES $135.66 IN DRIVE FOR GRAVES FUND

A total of $135.66 will be Xenia's subscription to the Graves Endowment Fund, backed by the American Legion to provide for annual decoration of the graves of American soldiers overseas on each succeeding Memorial Day.

This amount had been reported Monday as a result of the campaign conducted here last week by Joseph P. Foody Post, American Legion, and which ended with a sale of poppies on the streets Saturday. The National organization is hoping to raise $100,000 by May 30, to provide for perpetual care and decoration of the more than 30,000 American graves overseas.

Boxes placed in banks and business houses all last week by the committee, composed of Deputy Clerk of Courts Earl Short, Ohmer Tate and Earle Spahr, yielded only $7.83, but the poppy sale conducted Saturday proved more remunerative. The sale amounted to $87.80, half of which represents the Legion Auxiliary's donation to the fund and the other half will represent the Legion's share.

Part of the poppies were made by Auxiliary members and they were sold by members of the Auxiliary and by Girl Scouts in the afternoon and by members of the Legion Saturday evening. The balance of the fund was received from the collections in churches. A special collection for the fund taken at the Second United Presbyterian Church Sunday yielded $30 which was turned over to the committee. A collection last week at the Union Services of Trinity M. E. Reformed and Presbyterian Churches resulted in $10.03 being subscribed to the fund.

MRS. A. H. PENFIELD SEEKING DIVORCE

Springfield, O., May 14.—Mrs. Mary King Penfield, wife of Augustus H. Penfield, defaulting cashier of the Springfield National bank, filed suit for divorce, also asking restoration to her maiden name of Mary King Gotwald. Only one ground for divorce is given in the petition, the fact that the defendant is now serving a 21-year sentence in the Atlanta penitentiary for embezzlement. The petition is one of the shortest ever filed in court here.

WILL PROPOSE RESERVATIONS TO COURT PLAN

Opponents of Harding's
Program Are Perfect-
ing Plans

Washington, May 14.—Plans of the opponents in the senate to the administration's proposal for American membership in the league of nations court have begun to take definite shape.

It is understood that five or six reservations will be proposed. Some of them have been agreed upon in outline already. These will be in addition to the four reservations suggested by Secretary of State Hughes in his letter accompanying the president's communication to the senate.

Probably the principal one of the opponents' reservations will be designed by Senator Lodge, chairman of the foreign relations committee and majority floor leader, to sever entirely the connection of the court with the league and provide for future selection of judges of the court by the powers participating in the court independently of the league.

Next in importance will be reservation to eliminate the six to one voting advantage Great Britain has over the United States in the election of judges by the league, to be proposed by Senator Johnson.

It is also to be declared that the United States, if it becomes a member of the court while it still is a part of the league, shall not be bound in any way to support or enforce any action taken by the league based on an opinion rendered by the court in its capacity as legal adviser to the league.

The Lodge reservation was foreshadowed in the Massachusetts senator's recent letter to Governor Hyde of Missouri. Lodge made it plain to his friends in the senate following the writing of the letter to Governor Hyde that he was working on a reservation that would carry out his suggestion to absolutely cut away the court from the league. He does not share Secretary Hughes' view that it would be impracticable for the participating nations to elect the judges other than through the council and assembly of the league.

Attempting to fight the bees, she lost control of the machine, a Ford touring car, which went over an embankment.

Mrs. Kendig was removed to the Miami Valley Hospital where it was found that her arm was fractured. Her daughter was bruised. The car was damaged, and towed into Dayton.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS TESTIFY

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGES ASKED AGAINST YOUTHS

Northwestern University
Students May Be Indicted
By Grand Jury

SENSATION SPRUNG

Star Athlete Gives His Vision of Having Episode
At Evanston.

Chicago, May 14.—Indictments charging manslaughter against the Northwestern University students, who figured in the automobile crash in which Louis Aubere, 17, was killed, during a clash rush the night of April 17, will be asked of the grand jury, States Attorney Crowe said today.

Roscoe C. Fitch, an occupant of one of the cars in the collision was to appear before the grand jury today. Fitch is the youth who is said to have informed authorities he "knew all about Mount's death" and then suddenly repudiated his alleged confession.

Fitch was a roomer at the home of Leighton Mount, whose skeleton was found in a cairn beneath a lake pier, recently. Mount disappeared shortly after freshmen and sophomores had engaged in a class rush in September, 1921.

Fitch has declared Aubere met death in a "deliberate accident," and Crowe declared he would question the youth further regarding the tragedy. Authorities intimated they were positive the youth also knows more about the Mount tragedy than he has divulged and they will grill him further along these lines, they stated.

Audrey Longquist Scott, daughter of Axel Longquist, who eloped with Fred Scott, nephew of President Walter Dill Scott, of Northwestern University, will tell her story in the state's attorney's office today. Her testimony, it was said, would relate to alleged threats made by young Scott "that she and her father had better keep their mouths shut about the Mount case."

Miss Phyllis Trojan, a popular coed at Northwestern, and friend of Arthur Perding, one of the students hazed in September 1921, is also to be questioned today.

Sensational testimony was given today by James Paterson, star athlete of Northwestern University who, according to Assistant State Attorney Wharton, testified had sponsored the "hush up" campaign at Evanston.

"I wanted to do all I could do to protect the university," Paterson is said to have declared.

"I went to the pier and I must admit that what I found made it look bad for the university," Paterson is said to have testified. "Then I went to see Attorney Merrick, counsel for the trustees and called upon Judge Harry Olson who is one of the trustees. I urged them that everything be done to save Northwestern from unpleasant notoriety," Paterson said, according to the assistant state's attorney.

"I suggested that Northwestern had enough money, legal talent and medical experts to present the case way we wanted it presented. Mr. Merrick and Judge Olson agreed that I should do what I could to bring the student body into a frame of mind, where they would accept the suicide theory I felt that Northwestern was my school and that I should support it. I can't have any idea of obstructing investigation," Paterson testified, according to Wharton.

Louis Henke, editor of the student daily at Northwestern was equally as frank.

Henke admitted he had written the anonymous letter to State's Attorney Crowe, advising a search of the Western Union's records for a telegram reported to have been sent by Mount to his mother last fall from Obregon.

ATTEND CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR RALLY

Delegations from over the county attended the regular Miami Quarterly Meeting and Christian Endeavor Rally, at the Friends Church, this city Sunday. Large groups from Springfield, New Burlington and Xenia, attended the meeting.

The address of the afternoon was given by the Rev. E. Havard Brown, pastor of the Eight Street Friends Church, Richmond, Indiana, on the subject, "The Investment of a Life."

A pleasing and amusing part of the program was the "stunt" contest held by the different societies, the banner was awarded to the Xenia Christian Endeavor Society, by the chairman of the judges. The Rev. Charles O. Whitely, of Oskaloosa, Iowa, superintendent of the Iowa Yearly Meeting, made a clever speech of presentation. The Rev. E. Havard Brown, was in charge of the evening services. The Rev. Mr. Brown spoke on "Unknown Heroes." Large congregations attended the services.

To Name Young Woman As Writer of "Letters"

Girl Will Be Accused by George Maxwell, Composer,
Who Is Under Indictment In Connection With Alleged Plot.

New York, May 14.—A young woman will be named as the author of the "poison pen" letters which have poured through the mails to besmirch the character of scores of well-to-do and socially prominent.

The girl will be formally accused by George Maxwell, composer and music publisher, his friends asserted today. Maxwell is under indictment in connection with the alleged plot.

Maxwell, who is in London will sail for the United States next Wednesday, his friends said. They said he has long suspected a certain young woman and that he will reveal her identity on his return to New York.

The composer's friends are rallying to his support.

The Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers is planning a meeting for tomorrow and it is expected they will give him a vote of confidence.

New York, May 14.—Society women hitherto unmentioned in the poison pen plot will be called to testify before the grand jury.

This became known when it was learned the April grand jury will be reconvened to further investigate the salacious letters that have broken up nine homes, caused one suicide and sent several persons to the insane asylum.

It has been concluded that the poison penman had reached out dexterously to besmirch the characters of scores of the well-to-do and socially prominent. His field was as broad as the nation's social register, it is said, and the shafts of his attack were barbed with cruel innuendo and bitter truth hastily hidden from sight by the victims.

Investigations of the calamity was started when Allan J. Ryan, financier, revealed that he had received some of the letters mentioning his wife. It has resulted so far in the indictment of George Maxwell, prominent in the music and social world.

District Attorney Egan is searching the mass of letters for witnesses who may enlighten the investigators. As the search continues into the depths of what seems to be the most comprehensive plot of this kind in the annals of New York's society, it was intimated there may be additional indictments, possibly revealing an organized band engaged in a campaign of social ruin.

STRIKE IN BELGIUM REACHES SERIOUS STAGE ON MONDAY

State Employees Refuse to Work—Food Supplies
Running Short

Brussels, May 14.—The strike of Belgian state employees reached serious proportions today. Work in the larger cities is at a standstill. Food supplies are running short and impeded transportation hinders movement of fresh supplies.

The government called to the colors all public service workers, putting a military status upon them. A proclamation was issued warning that strikers who failed to heed the call would face court martial.

It is generally believed that the strike was organized by socialists for political purposes.

MOTORCYCLE COP MEETS DEATH IN CAUSING ARREST

Machine Upset, Policeman
Is Struck By Another
Car On Pike

Cincinnati, O., May 14.—As he was about to arrest a speeder, on the Madison pike, south of Covington, Ky., Motorcycle Policeman David Rogers, of Covington, was killed last night. His machine was upset by a sudden jerk on the part of the speeding car and almost as soon as he fell to the road his skull was crushed by another automobile.

Rogers was drawing alongside the fugitive car when the driver threw it for an instant out of the straight line, the movement being just enough to bump the motorcycle sideways. This threw the motorcycle, Rogers being tossed five feet into the air.

As he landed he was struck by a motor car driven by Emmott Hogan, 23 West 36th street, Covington, approaching from the opposite direction.

Rogers, a motorcycle messenger in the world war, was known as an expert in handling his machines. His widow and two children survive.

OHIO MAYORS ARE CALLED ON CARPET BY GOV. DONAHEY

Charge Laxity of Law Enforcement in Lorain and
New Philadelphia

Columbus, O., May 14.—Governor Donahey announced today that he has asked Mayor E. H. Fair, New Philadelphia and Mayor William F. Grall, Lorain, to confer with him here Thursday afternoon, relative to charges of laxity of law enforcement in the two cities.

"Mr. B. F. McDonald, state prohibition commissioner, has placed in my hands affidavits charging that certain police officers of New Philadelphia are derelict in their official duties, especially with relation to the enforcement of the liquor laws of Ohio," said Governor Donahey in a letter to Mayor Fair. "I would like to confer with you in regard to these charges."

The governor's letter to Mayor Grall, reads:

"There has been filed with me, evidence touching upon the integrity of your administration as mayor of Lorain. I have been petitioned to suspend you from office. Before taking any action I desire to confer with you in regard to this matter and ask you to call at my office."

CHINA BANDITS AGREE TO FREE ALL CAPTIVES

Settlement With Brigands
Reached—Troops to be Withdrawn

NO CONFIRMATION

State Department Not Informed of Release Of Americans

Shanghai, May 14.—Release of the prisoners held by Chinese bandits in the Shantung hills is expected at once as the result of an agreement reached with the brigands by representatives of the Peking government, said a despatch from Linchong today.

The Peking government agreed to withdraw the troops and to enroll the bandits in the national army. The bandit leaders said they were satisfied but wished to see the agreement signed before the captives were liberated. There are still two women captives among the prisoners, one of them being the wife of Manuel Vera, a wealthy resident of Guadalajara.

Japanese brand the international attitude toward the bandit situation as "reactionary."

There is a persistent rumor here that Japanese were really responsible for the raid, although there were no Japanese on the train. Chinese officials say that the Japanese governor-general of Saghalien was to have traveled on the raided train but cancelled his ticket upon receiving warning.

Washington, May 14.—The state department today was without confirmation of reports of the release of any of the Americans or other foreign prisoners held by Chinese bandits near Linchong.

Consular agents of the powers are negotiating with the Chinese officials in Shantung to effect the liberation of the captives, but none of the despatches received by the department indicate that the bandits have given up their prisoners.

CLUE FOLLOWED IN SEARCH FOR ALLEGED OFFICER'S KIDNAPER

Cleveland Policeman Is Believed Murdered After Clothes Found

Cleveland, O., May 14.—The body of Patrolman Dennis Griffin, for whom a constant search has been kept up since Friday, was found this afternoon in a shallow grave about three miles from Chagrin Falls. The grave was not far from the spot where charred portions of the dead policeman's uniform were found yesterday.

Cleveland, May 14.—Police today were questioning a man who says that he drove John L. Whitfield, alleged kidnaper of Patrolman Dennis Griffin, to an interurban station Friday afternoon. The witness told police that at the time, Whitfield was accompanied by a woman companion and that while the search for the man last seen with the officer now believed murdered, was at its height, with every officer on the alert, the suspect slipped through the cordon, boarded an interurban car and left town.

Acting on the information furnished the search will be concentrated all along the route supposed to have been taken.

In the meantime, the last lingering hope that Griffin might still be alive had been abandoned with the finding and positive identification of charred clothing and equipment of the missing patrolman yesterday afternoon. Some boys found the burned articles on a lonely road near Gauga Lake.

DISAPPROVE OHIO ROAD CONTRACT

Columbus, May 14.—Award of a contract to Lewis & Copeland of Lima for construction of 8.3 miles of the Bellefontaine-Marysville road in Logan county failed to receive the approval of State Director of Finance Baker. The contract called for reinforced concrete and involved a cost of $271,454. It was awarded by Highway Director Herrick March 13, but has been held up by the governor pending the outcome of an investigation by Paul Murray, New Philadelphia, and Director Baker. The latter said he refused to approve the contract on the ground that it calls for a new road through a territory in which there are few residents.

Florence Argall Yates, the 13-year-old daughter of P. B. Aates, of Milwaukee, became the sole heir to his $13,000,000 estate when he died recently at the age

69. The ambition of this good woman of the New Testament was for priority of place for her sons in an earthly kingdom of Jesus. The highest ambition of the mother of today, is that of having her children hold leading places in the Spiritual kingdom of Christ.

The Rev. B. B. Uhl, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, took for the subject of his sermon, "The Relation of Mother's and their Children." He brought out many beautiful thoughts, as tributes to motherhood.

MOTHER'S DAY IS OBSERVED SUNDAY IN LOCAL CHURCHES

The glory of Motherhood was praised in song and sermon in Xenia City Churches, Sunday, "Mother's Day." Local pastors took that occasion to pay tribute to mothers, and their influence in the world and events.

The Rev. G. A. Scott, pastor of the First M. E. Church, took for the subject of his sermon, "Why We Call Our Mother Blessed," calling her the "best gift that God gives."

"We take every opportunity to pay tribute to our mothers, and the esteem in which she is held is evidenced by the fact that the 30th Congress, aside May 13, as 'Mother's Day,' he said. "She has the spirit of courage and is able to face any situation. Her courage puts courage into the heart of childhood, and her spirit of self-nunciation lends aid to every possibility. She is not only a guiding light to her own, but to everyone with whom she comes into contact. She is the teacher in the school of life."

"A mother is the greatest influence in the world," declared the Rev. E. W. Middleton, pastor of the First Reformed Church, in his sermon. "The history of great men has been written as a result of their mothers. The dynamic power of life is traceable to early teaching of religion in the hearts of men. The first four years of child life begins in the university of the Nursery."

"Mother's Day" was fittingly observed at the Friends Church, Mrs. E. H. Hawkins Sunday School Class composed of young men and young women, were in charge of the Sunday School program. The altar was decorated with spring flowers. A large assembly of the congregation attended the services. Recitations by Daniel Lewis and Myrtle Fawcett, a solo by Miss Leona Keller, featured the program. The church service following was in charge of the Rev. W. E. Jones, pastor of Sullivan Avenue Friends ing address on "Opportunity." At the Church, Columbus, who gave a stir-close of the service 14 members were received into the church. JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA, MAKES MONEY BY OWNING A PUBLIC UTILITY.

Including Xenia's own experience, a number of years ago, public opinion has usually been against municipal ownership of public utilities, yet Xenia is trying it now in the ownership of our water works. Time will tell how this experiment will work out. In the mean time it will perhaps not do any harm to give the evidence that at least one city claims to have made money by such ownership. We take the following article from a late issue of the Jacksonville, Florida, Journal. It shows that the arguments are not all on one side in the matter. May our ownership of the water works prove like profitable. The Journal says:

Jacksonville's power plant is a monument to successfully operated municipal public utilities.

In addition to a present asset value of $2,750,000, the outcome of a $75,000 investment thirty years ago, the plant has poured $2,901,000 in net profits into the city treasury. The money has gone to reduce taxes.

More remarkable still is the fact that while the plant has been building up this enormous profit it has furnished Jacksonville power at a rate cheaper than that enjoyed by any other city in the United States.

These figures read like fiction, but they are facts. Opponents of municipal utilities cannot refute them. The records are open.

In some respects Jacksonville's municipal power plant is the eighth wonder of the world. It has been attracting national attention for a number of years and its condensed history of profits covering the thirty-year period since it was established is bound to create still greater interest.

All the gold mines are not in California. Jacksonville has one in the public utility.

THE PRESIDENT IS RIGHT.

President Harding is convinced that no man may stay long in the White House and remain a convinced "isolationist." He has turned to the Permanent Court for International Justice and fights for it in the fact of a very considerable amount of pressure upon him to desert it. He is equally convinced that the people of these United States are not such stiff-necked and shuddering "isolationists" that they are fearful of the World Court.

He is right. Politicians and vote-chasing witch-doctors may be afraid of it, but the people are not. He is a thousand times right when he tells the General Federation of Women's Clubs that in the matter of this Court the national heart, conscience and judgment are alike enlisted, and against these we need never fear that any opposition may prevail.

In this the President reads the signs of the times very clearly. The irreconcilables and bitter-enders are missing or misreading these signs.

The World Court question is in the way of becoming a moral issue, an issue of "heart, conscience and judgment." Its supporters are not concerned about partisanship.

The people of the churches of America are not afraid of this Court. They welcome it and demand that we enter.

PARIS DEMAND THAT THE TURKS DROP THE CHESTER TREATY.

France will insist on cancellation of the Chester agreements as a preliminary to signature of any treaty with Turkey.

That statement was made by M. Lenail, chairman of the Near East Committee of the Chamber of Deputies. He said:

"It is impossible that we who fought against the Crescent during the war should admit that a nation which did not participate in the war against Turkey should harvest benefit and become pre-eminent in those regions. The Chester agreements damage our former interests, and we shall in no case accept them. Our claims were recognized before the war. They again were conceded to us by the Treaty of Sevres. Mustafa Kemal himself recognized our rights over that portion of Turkey now declared sold to the Chester syndicate.

"We as rightful owner will not accept a bargain made without our knowledge and against our will. There is no honesty among nations if we accept such a principle. Under such conditions no diplomatic agreements could be signed anywhere.

"Several reasons now influence Kemal. The first is his desire for better peace terms by menacing the Allies with the scarecrow of 'American competition' and 'American industrial imperialism.' The second is the need for ready cash. These Americans, without responsibility and with no official mandate, were able to promise anything, leaving the American Government quite free to reject the proposals and later avoid spending millions in the wisp's nest of Europe.

"We consider that America thus shows lack of scruples and international fairness. Why should America be pre-eminent in Turkey? We admit the claims of Britain for her brilliant part in the defeat of Turkey. But America did nothing on the Eastern front. And now by providing the Turks with financial promises they take advantage of their position with the Allies."

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Nearly all the strawberries are killed and many of the late ones injured as a result of the recent cold weather. Early cherries are killed, while some of the late sorts promise a light crop. A few seedling peaches are still holding the fort. Apples show no injury yet. The Inter-urban Oratorical contest, comprising representatives from the High Schools of Xenia, London, Bellefontaine, Greenville and Troy takes place this evening at Urbana. Miss Della Downing will be the representative of the local High School and has prepared an oration on the subject "How Far the Candle Throws Its Little Beam."

There is no building boom on in Xenia but if you wish a job of carpentering you will be likely told "This is our busy day," and asked to wait. Taking the city over there is quite an amount of building being done.

Every day there are scores of our country friends inspecting their elegant new Court House. They are pleased with it and glad they voted for it.

If the hair is too oily it is not a bit of use to wash it every week or so. Too much oil shows a somewhat unhealthy condition of the scalp and should be cured by proper use of tonics and massage. Curiously enough, oily dandruff can only be cured by the liberal use of oil thoroughly rubbed into the scalp.

Meantime, while the woman is doing all these useful things to her scalp she wants her hair to look pretty and fluffy. As a weekly shampoo is harmful, she must use dry powder shampoos or the gasoline shampoo which

I will talk about later. Most of my readers know how to make the color-shampoo powders for blonde and dark hair. The basis is powdered starch wheat, rice or potato starch. If you wish, but ordinary corn starch such as is used for laundry purposes if you want to be economical. Personally I think the corn starch is just as good. If your hair is dark the starch is melted in coffee as strong and black as you can make it, of course cold when the starch is added. If it is for blonde hair, soak the powder in strong tea. After the powder is thoroughly mixed and colored, let it settle, pour off the liquid and let dry. If it is on large platters, so only a thin coating of starch settles on each platter it will dry quickly and powder again without any trouble.

In any case put all the colored powder into a little cheesecloth bag and sift it into a jar. The bag can be pounded to get out all the lumps. This sounds like a great deal of work, but it is really quite simple and very easy. Scent it by adding a little perfumed sachet powder.

Dorothy P.—Massage crude oil into the scalp the night before the shampoo which will likely cure the dandruff condition. To remove this oil from the hair next day will require several latherings, but this may be done effectively and with only a mild soap such as castile or one in which there is tar if your hair is dark. Massage scalp every day in order to quicken the circulation. Disregard the fact of the old weak hairs dropping out. New hair will grow in thicker as the health of scalp improves.

Anxious and Brown Eyes.—The scars from pimples will bleach off gradually as you improve your own condition, such as taking care of your digestion and complexion. A small piece of chamomile used on the skin will remove the shine.

Here's a popular way to serve Kellogg's Bran—greatest health food!

Most every one who realizes how effective Kellogg's Bran is for the permanent relief of constipation has their own particular way of serving this wonderful cereal. Most families eat it as a cereal with milk or cream. Others sprinkle it on their favorite hot or cold cereal. Every one enjoys its nut-like flavor!

If you are cooking a hot cereal try this method:—Measure off two tablespoonfuls for each member of the family. Mix it with the cereal and cook as you always cook the cereal.

Kellogg's Bran is scientifically prepared and ready to eat, but its regularity powers are in no way impaired if you cook it with other cereals.

Kellogg's Bran has won the friendly recommendation of physicians because it does give prompt and permanent relief from mild or chronic constipation and because it can be eaten without forming a habit. Again, Kellogg's Bran will free you from drastic, dangerous cathartics.

When constipation conditions exist in your system or when you are threatened, do not take half-way measures. Foods with a partial bran content cannot free you! What you must have is Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL BRAN! Go the limit; get relief!

Every member of your family will delight in eating Bran raisin bread, muffins, pancakes, macaroons, etc. Recipes on every package.

Start eating Bran to-day! Get well—keep well—keep disease out of your home! First-class hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers.

Today's Talk

OUR SILENT GUEST

None of us can be happy totally alone. Unless we keep sharing, we wither just like the leaves and flowers deprived of moisture.

I am always entertaining a silent guest in my thoughts and my heart. Someone near and dear to me, perhaps, but who may be separated by miles or over years of time. Or perhaps some great mind that I shall never come in contact with, excepting through what has written into some wonderful book.

Many times I have walked into the thick woods and there sat beside my silent friends, the flowers, an for hours we have talked a common language. Because I, being the inheritor of a love of beauty and the flowers being beauty in themselves, we needed no introductions—we were friends right off, and each delicately colored visitor became my silent guest.

We really never need be lonely—if we call in our silent guests!

The other evening, as I sat alone in my library, a deep sense of loneliness came over me. I wanted to talk with someone who might understand my mood at that time. But the night without was very still and it was late. I walked over to this bookcase and then to that. I re-read a handful of treasured letters. I drank in the beauty from several pictures. Even my favorite little bronze seemed to smile its warmth to me—but still that particular mood remained hungry. Then I took the big chair in front of my typewriter and reached for my beloved little volume of R. L. S. Then the orchestra in Heaven played softly—and for hours my silent guest and I loved life anew together in that quiet room.

You may be a silent guest right now—far, far away!

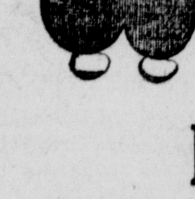

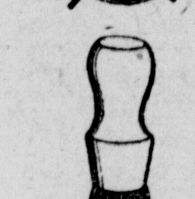

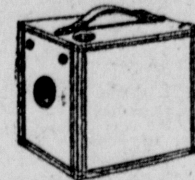

Is it not, then, very important to keep this house of ours in beautiful order—clean and ready for whosoever may call?

JEWETT SIX PAIGE BUILT

f. o. b. factory

Driven member of clutch weighs less than 3 1/2 lbs.

Why Jewett never "stalls," "jerks," nor clashes Gears

YOU can change gears in a Jewett as fast as you can move your hand—or as slowly as you please. No "clash" is heard—and you never "miss." You can even drop from "high" to "second" at 30 miles an hour. Let up the clutch pedal as fast as you can move your foot, and Jewett neither jerks nor kills its motor.

Such superb handling ease comes largely from the new Paige-type Jewett clutch. Its driven member weighs less than 3 1/2 pounds, one-third the usual weight. So it stops spinning instantly—adjusts itself to speed changes quickly—helps you change gears. And the six clutch springs instead of one, and twice the friction surface of the ordinary clutch, give the smooth, gradual engagement which prevents jerking or motor stalling. Please try Jewett's ease yourself.

Styles BY LENORE

Thanks to the enterprise of American dress manufacturers, a really-truly French frock may be acquired by the slimmest purse. Twice, sometimes three or four times a year, the representatives of the large establishments in New York and Chicago travel to France and bring back the ideas which, when carried out at the exclusive houses, are beyond the purse of the average woman. Sometimes it is not even necessary to simplify a model to bring it within the range of popular prices. Note the model shown in the cut. When originally created it was made of azure blue ribbon, the edges tipped in silver. The cost, somewhere around $120. Now you may see this very design in your favorite specialty shop. Less expensive material, mass production, and the very same idea, in blue, black or gray moire ribbon, may be had for about $59.50 or under, depending on the character of the shop and the quality of material and workmanship.

A Real Money Maker

Assets and liabilities of the Printing Press Company organizing here will be as follows:

LIABILITIES

Ninety thousand dollars of preferred stock to be issued to the Des Moines stock holders. One hundred and fifteen thousand dollars in Common stock to Xenia stock holders.

ASSETS

$100,000 dollars in Money.

$15,000 in machinery turned over to us by the Des Moines Company, (this machinery was figured at fifty cents on the dollar.)

The Building of the Miami Cereal Co., was turned in for $15,000 in stock, but to this company it is worth $50,000 as it could not be duplicated for this amount.

The State of Iowa invoiced the patents of this machine in 1918 at $110,000, this invoice was made before many of the most valuable patents were taken out.

The drawings, patterns, tools, etc., no property of this company would cost thousands of dollars to duplicate.

We are to issue $100,000 worth of Common stock to E. E. Strawn besides, but this stock cannot be figured in the liabilities of this company at this time as it is to be placed in trust with the State of Ohio and cannot be released nor figured in the assets of this company until all other investors have received substantial dividends and have an absolute sure investment.

In looking over the assets and liabilities of this company you can see that under the worst conditions it would be nearly impossible for us to lose anything in this undertaking. On the other hand we have the following possibilities for making money. A press that will cost us approximately $2,400 to make can be sold for $11,000 plus a 10% royalty. The royalty should net us between $15 and $30 per day. TRY FIGURING THIS ON 100 PRESSES FOR ONE YEAR. Now the next important thing to consider is, will printers and publishers buy these presses under the above arrangements?

The best press on the market today costs from $4,500 to $22,000. The maximum production of this press is 3,500 per hour in not over two colors. The $22,000 size is the only size that will print two colors. Now put yourself in the printer's position. Would you be interested in a press that will print from one to six colors in one operation at a speed of 25,000 per hour, automatic feed and delivery? The first saving on this press is in buying paper. By being able to print from a roll you can buy paper ten per cent cheaper, in other words it cost the paper mill ten per cent to unroll paper and cut it in sheets for the present make of presses, so a printer will save enough on the difference in the price of paper, before the press is even considered, to pay the royalty. The increase of production is so great, profits so large that it leaves only one thing for a printer to do, and that is buy a press.

Think this over, investigate our statements. We invite your careful investigation. Come in our company and get in on one of the best propositions you have ever considered.

Your blood changes in the Spring. Why?

YOUR blood is thicker and more sluggish in Winter than in Summer—it has to be to keep you warm. Then comes warmer days and lighter clothes. Your blood, still thick and heavy-laden, is slow to throw off its impurities. What happens? The impurities crowd out through the skin—boils and pimples appear—you feel sluggish and tired! The remedy for this condition is S. S. S. It is the ideal blood purifier, because the medicinal properties are purely vegetable. It is a glorious fact that S. S. S. has given new, long-forgotten strength to older people and has made many old and young people look years younger. Blood is life—it's your foundation—make it rich—get blood strength—we all need it, especially rheumatics. S. S. S. will give you greater energy, strength and endurance.

Mr. Harry C. Bachman, 4736 Main Avenue, Norwood, Ohio, writes: "I had skin eruptions, pimples and blackheads. I took S. S. S. and was happily surprised at the results I got in less than three weeks' time."

MACHINES COLLIDE SUNDAY NOON—BOTH CARS ARE DAMAGED

Mrs. J. W. Matthews, Cincinnati pike, suffered temporarily from shock and two machines were damaged as the result of an automobile accident at Third and Monroe streets Sunday noon, which the Nash roadster driven by D. L. Gregg, Union street was struck by a Ford sedan driven by J. W. Matthews.

Mrs. Matthews received a slight injury to her arm and suffered from nervous shock from which she had fully recovered Monday. She was taken into a nearby residence and Dr. A. D. DeHaven called following the accident. Her husband also suffered from shock and their small son, Ralph, the only other occupant of the car received a slight injury to his head. Mr. and Mrs. Gregg, who occupied the other car, were unhurt.

The Matthews car was traveling south on Monroe street and the Gregg car was traveling east on Third street at the time of the collision. Matthews claims his vision of the Gregg car was obscured by a high board fence at the rear of the Kinney home and that he could not see the approaching machine until it was too late to avoid striking it. His machine struck the roadster broadside, mashing the fender and knocking the Gregg car into the curb, a rear wheel being smashed.

The radiator of the sedan was crushed, the radius rod damaged, one front wheel smashed, the glass in a door broken, and the top splintered.

LITTLE GIRL RUNS IN FRONT OF CAR— BADLY BRUISED

Little Glenna France, Thoroman, five-year-old daughter of J. E. Thoroman, 131 Trumbull street, is suffering from severe bruises received when she was struck by an automobile driven by Allen Bone, New Burlington pike, on West Second street at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening.

The child was bruised about the head, her right leg was injured at the ankle and one arm hurt, but she escaped broken bones and there are no cuts. She is still confined to her bed and her injuries are being attended by Dr. C. G. McPherson.

The little girl makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leach, West Second street, since the recent death of her mother. Sunday evening her father called to take her a ride, and she ran from the house to meet him. At the curb she stopped while a machine passed and after it had gone ran into the street, directly in the path of the car driven by Bone.

Bone put on the breaks and skidded his car some distance in an effort to avoid striking the child, but one fender struck her shoulder, knocking her down. Thoroman told police the car was traveling at a high rate of speed and skidded 30 feet when the brakes were applied. Bone denies that he was traveling fast, and declares that he made every effort to avoid the accident, which would have been more serious if his machine had been moving rapidly.

NOTE DISAPPOINTS FRANCE.

Paris, May 14.—The British reply to the German reparations offer, which was rejected by France and Belgium, arriving here is assailed in high diplomatic quarters. It is complained that Lord Curzon's note is "distinct encouragement to Germany since it leaves the door open to negotiations without specifying that the passive resistance in the Ruhr must cease."

OFFERED DEPUTY MARSHALSHIP

Athens, O., May 14.—Hal W. Murphy, Republican of this city, has been tendered a post as deputy United States marshal, according to word received here. Murphy, once an Athens county deputy sheriff, has held several state and federal posts in the past.

Chicken au Gratin: (Last Sunday's menu called for Roast Chicken, I assume that the housekeeper still has a few chicken leftovers on hand for tomorrow night's dinner. If she has only a very small amount of the cold chicken she may mix it with a can of boned chicken in this recipe.) Dice cold cooked chicken finely, then weigh it. There should be one-half pound. Cook three tablespoons of rice in boiling, salted water till tender and drain. Butter a medium-sized baking dish and put a layer of chicken in the bottom. Spread over it a layer of the cooked rice; cover the rice sparingly with tomato catsup and season well with a little salt and pepper. Repeat these layers till the dish is full, having the final layer of bread crumbs and cheese. Brown in a hot oven and serve at once.

Baked Parsnips: Peel and wash six parsnips and cut them in half lengthwise. Now steam them for one hour in the top of your double boiler (adding only a very little water to them, and having the water in the lower pan boiling rapidly.) Remove from range, put them in a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper and pour over one-half cup of melted butter. Place the dish in a moderate oven to bake for 40 minutes, when they should be tender and brown. Serve very hot.

Strawberry Shortcake: (See a full article on this dessert which will be published on Wednesday, May 16.) Venetian Eggs: (This is one of the most useful dishes I know of. It is nourishing, easily prepared and delicious.) Put three eggs into the top of your double boiler and beat well; add either one quart of creamed tomatoes (both juice and solid parts) or the same quantity of stewed fresh tomatoes. Mix well, then season with one large onion finely minced, with one tablespoon of salt, one table-spoon of sugar and a dash of pepper. Cook over boiling water till thickened (the eggs thicken the mixture.) then serve on toast.

XENIA OSTHEOPATH TO AID IN CLINIC

Dr. Carrie Hutchison, of this city, osteopath, with offices in Dayton, will be among the examining physicians to take part in the state osteopathic clinic to be held May 5, at Delaware Springs, sanitarium.

The clinic will be held for the benefit of children under the auspices of the Ohio Osteopath Women's association. Examinations for children ranging in age from six months to 12 years will be conducted.

Stuffed Peppers: Cut a slice from the stem-end of six large green peppers; remove seeds and partitions, and place these scooped-out pepper cups in boiling water for ten minutes (off the range), then drain well. Mix together four tablespoons of chopped cooked ham, four tablespoons of dry bread crumbs, one tablespoon of chopped parsley, one-half of a large onion finely minced, and one-half cup of tomatoes; season with one teaspoon of salt and a dash of pepper, and stuff the peppers with this mixture. Cover the opening with a slice of bacon, and bake in a pan for 50 minutes in a moderate oven.

FARM BUILDINGS DESTROYED BY FIRE SUNDAY MORNING

A short circuit in the ignition system of an automobile, is believed to have started a fire which destroyed the hay barn, implement shed and garage on the Morton Grinnell farm, Grinnell road, near Yellow Springs early Sunday morning with a loss of between $1,500 and $2,000.

The fire was discovered about 6:30 o'clock in the garage, which is at one end of the barn but annexed to the large structure. From the source it is believed the conflagration started in the machine. The building was ablaze when discovered. The fire had gained such headway that the efforts of volunteer fire fighters recruited from neighbors, forming a bucket brigade, were only able to save structures in the neighborhood, which included the horse barn.

The Yellow Springs Fire Department attempted to respond to a call for help but owing to tire trouble on the road, never reached the scene of the fire. The combined structures composed a long frame building, all of which was consumed. Included in the destruction of the garage on one end were the Ford sedan in which the fire is thought to have started and a new buggy. There was no hay nor grain in the hay-barn and three head of cattle were taken from that part of the structure before the flames reached it. Several farm implements were destroyed in the implement annex on the other end of the barn, but the majority of the implements were in another building untouched by the flames. The horse barn, 14 feet away, was scorched by the heat.

The loss is partially covered by insurance. But inaction was impossible to Ann, and she urged they continue to search instead of waiting as Bess proposed. But they met with little success, no trace of the Elviver.

A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

CHILD STEALING A CRIME

Chapter LXXXIV.

Dick looked almost frightened as did Ann. Perhaps he understood even better than she how venomous Grace would be. They were undecided what to do next, which way to turn. Grace had the flivver and she had Jack. But where she had taken him they could not imagine.

"I believe she is just driving around keeping him with her just to scare you," Bessie said. "She'll turn up before dark."

But inaction was impossible to Ann, and she urged they continue to search instead of waiting as Bess proposed. But they met with little success, no trace of the Elviver.

Nora had brought a semblance of neatness again to the rooms, but grumblingly. She hated and despised Grace Edmunds, to clean because of her was maddening; then too, her thoughts were all on Jackie, her "lamb."

away if they were to be happy again, but just now Jack's absence overshadowed all else.

Ann had telephoned the doctor. He had seen nothing of them or of Hugh. He hadn't shown up at the ranch where he was staying or there.

"He may be on their trail," the doctor encouraged.

"I can't go to bed! I can't!" Ann declared when Dick urged it. "Go to bed when my baby is in danger!"

"Grace won't harm Jack, Ann," Dick replied. "And he likes her so he will not be unhappy. She is trying to frighten us."

But Ann would not even undress, and all that long night she and Dick sat scarcely speaking, listening to every sound and starting up at the slightest noise. As soon as it was light Dick started off in NeX's car. Ann was induced to remain at home because of the chance Grace might bring Jack back there. She would not know Ann had returned, and might think she had frightened Dick sufficiently.

But the morning wore away and still no one came! Bessie telephoned, said Ned had started to visit the neighboring ranches in to hope she might have gone to one of them.

It was nearly noon when Hugh Norton drove up with Jack in the seat beside him, a flushed and angry Grace in the tonneau. Ann flew out to meet them, grasped Jack in her arms and with trembling lips questioned Hugh.

"Wait until come back, Ann," he said. "I have to take my prisoner home first. Child stealing is a prison offense you know," he said gravely.

Grace had not spoken, save as her baleful looks spoke of her hatred and anger at being captured.

Jack was unhurt and told in his baby way something of where they had been. A long ride, a funny house and sleeping with "Grace." They would have to await Hugh's return for the rest.

Before he came, Dick drove in. When he saw Jack same in Ann's arms he broke down. He told Ann he hadn't believed she meant what she said when she declared she wouldn't remain in the house with Grace, that he thought she was trying to make him small. He said Grace hadn't any sense, didn't know how to do anything but chatter and look pretty. But while he made no apology, Ann knew he was terribly sorry and ashamed of what he had done. Especially because of Bessie's insistence Grace should not remain in the house with him, and coming to stay.

"One would think I couldn't be trusted," he said. "I shouldn't have asked you to come back, Ann, if that had been true."

By and by Hugh came back. Dick knew he had found Jack, was anxious to know how and where. He seemed to have forgotten all his animosity against Hugh, and greeted him pleasantly—as he used to before his jealousy had been aroused.

"Tell us all about it, Hugh?" Ann asked.

"I followed them to San Bernardino. She had gone to a hotel, a small out of the way one. I threatened her, meant it too, told her I would have her arrested for child stealing. I know the head of the police there and could have had her locked up. Gad, she's got nerve. She declared she would keep Jack. That I didn't dare do anything. She was frightfully angry at you, Dick. Said you had insulted her, had compelled her to leave after virtually making her mistress of your house. I didn't understand it all, but I got Jack."
